Project Folder Structure-

```
final project/

        |-- application/

                |   |-- __init__.py

                |   |-- config.py

                |   |-- controllers.py

                |   |-- database/

                |   |   └── tracker.db

                |   |-- forms.py

                |   |-- models.py

                |   |-- static/

                        |-- images/

                          |   └── logo.svg

                        |-- styles/

                          |     └── style.css

                |   |-- templates/

                                |-- add_log.html

                                |-- add_tracker.html

                                |-- base.html

                                |--home.html

                                |--login.html

                                |--registration.html

                                |--tracker.html

        |-- run.py

        └── tests/

                        |-- test.py

                          └── tracker.db

        |-- requirements.txt
```

Tools:

- Text Editor – Sublime Text (Anaconda Command Prompt for running application)
- Package Manager – Anaconda
- For designing – Figma & Bootstrap
- Community Help – Stackoverflow
- Database from SQlite
- Framework – Flask

Present State:

- All HTML templates
- Models and Databases
- All Forms
- User Authentication (Login, Register, Logout)
- CRUD operations on Tracker
- CRUD operations on Logs
- Trend Line and last modified on Tracker
- API